HIDDEN IN PLAIN SIGHT

The teen years can be difficult. Indicators of teen drug use, mental health concerns, unhealthy relationships, human trafficking, and other risk factors can be hidden in plain sight, but easy for parents/other adults to miss.

Join us to learn about current trends, how to recognize common warning signs and how to talk to youth about these important issues.

Parents, Caregivers, Educators and other adults who work with youth are encouraged to attend.

Must be 21+ to attend

EVENT DETAILS

HANDS ON

A mock teen bedroom is set up with 70+ items, which can indicate risky behaviors.

PRESENTATION

After walking through the room, attendees will participate in a presentation/discussion that covers:

- The items and how they may indicate risky behaviors.
- Popular local youth trends
- Tools to navigate the teen years.
- Discussion points for family conversations

Sequim School District Families,

As part of the state's effort to protect the health of all children, the Washington State Legislature passed the Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill 1139 in 2021. This bill addresses concerns about lead in school drinking water as part of a broader effort to reduce children's overall exposure to lead in the environment. Under the bill, the drinking water must be tested every 5 years in all public schools built, or had all plumbing replaced, before 2016.

The Sequim School District, in alignment with this legislation, is having water tested across all buildings.

Lead in School Drinking Water Program

The Washington State Legislature passed laws in 2021 that require lead testing of all drinking water outlets in public schools that were built, or had all plumbing replaced, before 2016. Initial testing is required by June 2026, and retesting is required every five years thereafter.

We partner with schools to sample and test drinking water, provide guidance on remediation, and assist with communicating the health effects of lead exposure. We test for lead to reduce exposure from school drinking water.

SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

TEST

Partner with Department of Health or a contractor to sample and test drinking water.

ACT

Develop an action plan for remediating outlets with elevated lead levels.

COMMUNICATE

Communicate with students' families and staff about lead contamination in drinking water as required.
