What do I need to know before the week starts: 11/21-11/25

Next week, we dive into our winter break season.

November has Thanksgiving break, December has Winter Break, January has Martin Luther King Day. We round it off with February, which has both an end of semester no school day and Presidents Day. Staff will do their best to keep Canvas pages up to date during these windows of down time so your student can catch up on classes if needed. Aside from school, keeping routines and having purpose for non-school days can support what can often be a stressful time for students.
